"Obstacle Course Racing (OCR) is a sport that challenges participants with a series of physical obstacles, testing their endurance, strength, agility, and coordination. The course typically includes a mix of climbing, jumping, and balancing tasks designed to simulate real-world challenges. OCR is popular for its ability to provide a full-body workout while also being a thrilling competition that pushes athletes to their limits. FAST TRACK Configuration The ""FAST TRACK"" configuration is a compact OCR setup measuring 22.5m x 7.5m. It includes obstacles like Monkey Bars, Gap Jumps, and Climbing Rope with a Top Bell. This configuration emphasizes speed and agility, making it ideal for high-intensity interval training and quick, efficient workouts"
