"Obstacle Course Racing (OCR) is a sport that challenges participants with a series of physical obstacles, testing their endurance, strength, agility, and coordination. The course typically includes a mix of climbing, jumping, and balancing tasks designed to simulate real-world challenges. OCR is popular for its ability to provide a full-body workout while also being a thrilling competition that pushes athletes to their limits. The ""FOCUS TRAIL"" is a balanced OCR circuit spanning 65m x 4.5m, integrating elements like a Large Wheel, Trapeze Bars, and Crawling Net. This course is designed to enhance focus, precision, and coordination, making it ideal for improving both mental and physical resilience."
